Grand Opening

Don't Miss the Fun

Dear everybody, this is Brendan Grace here and I'm very excited about a new venture about to happen in Roscommon, town called Mac Nificent. It's all about great food for all the family with the emphasis on quality, value and taste.

The Morelli family have been pioneering in the food business for the last 50+ years, great food has been high for a generation of quality food and they should have been thinking out with the thought food from land and sea.

My first concept for the business of Mac Nificent will be to bring in the food business in Ireland as both a restaurant in a family friendly atmosphere and food to go which will bring a sense of fun to all. Using Catering or Brian Bono King of Ireland, but most importantly... YES, the Company, and no harm done with a healthy option in the bargain.

It won't be long before the name Mac Nificent will be familiar in every town and village around the entire country with the first one right here in Roscommon. The Irish 40% of the Morelli family gives the last century added to that the better food of yours, look to expect you that the Golden / Irish revolution is your generation of progress, innovation, Quality food and beverages, value for money and a genuine feel good experience. All the family will work you hard after lunch with every visit to Mac Nificent.

I look forward to meeting you soon at Mac Nificent in the Great Roscommon for the Grand Opening. Sincerely yours.....

Brendan
