Final call for entries for Rose of Roscommon

There has been a great response to the Rose of Roscommon event and this week the organisers are advising that we are entering the last couple of days during which entries for the prestigious competition will still be accepted. The winner could go on to take part in the Rose of Tralee 2010.

Clubs and local development organisations all across County Roscommon are being asked to put a Rose forward for the Rose of Roscommon event – and they have responded with enthusiasm.

At the selection ball in Kilronan Castle on Friday night, April 23rd, Roscommon's most elegant ladies will vie for the title of Rose of Roscommon and will aim to represent the county at the Rose of Tralee event in August.

This year there is also an escort competition on the night of April 23rd in Kilronan Castle and one lucky man from County Roscommon is guaranteed to feature at the event in Tralee.

If you would like to follow in the footsteps of Caitriona O'Connor (2008) or Maria Hoey (2009), entry forms are available from Caroline in Creative Freedom, Castle Street, Roscommon. But time is running out, so make contact now!

If you think you have what it takes to represent your county...get your application in and be part of a great county event!

It is the last chance for any business, organisation or GAA club that wish to nominate a Rose for this year's selection. For more information, please call Caroline on 086-3149212 or you can download a form from the Festival website www.roseoftralee.ie

Compere on the night will be Galway Bay FM's Ollie Turner and the Roscommon Rose of Tralee will take home a selection of prizes including the O'Brien's Pharmacy Perpetual Trophy.
